

Bulletin 2020:2

1-20-2020

General Construction

2.2.12: Extinguishers - Element E50 Fire Extinguisher Update

Effective until further notice the Element E50 fire extinguisher can be substituted for one of the three required 2.5lb extinguishers. The remaining 2 x 2.5 or 1 x 5 extinguisher(s) must meet requirements of section 2.2.12 The Element E50 can be used in any location allowed in section 2.2.12

2.15.2.1: Auxiliary fuel tank

REMINDER: Per rule 2.15.2.1 Auxiliary fuel tanks must also be safety fuel cells. This applies to all classes.

Some examples that will not pass tech are: Rotopax type or other auxiliary cans, Jerry cans, dump cans, UTV OEM tank mounted in non-OEM location. This list is not all inclusive and all fuel tanks, main or auxiliary will be required to pass tech. {The only exception to this rule is the UTV class OEM tank mounted only in the OEM location} Please review your tanks to make sure they meet these standards.

2.6.2: Roll Cage Tubing Size

REMINDER: This is not a change to the rules but a reiteration.

All vehicles competing in Ultra4 must meet the requirements of Section 2.6.2

2.6.2 All vehicles must be equipped with a roll cage fabricated of 1020 mild steel mechanical tubing or better (higher carbon content or alloy steel). The following minimum mild steel tubing sizes for roll cage main structure, based on dry vehicle weight rating (DVWR) in race trim, not including occupants, are recommended:

- DVWR Under 3200 lb. (1452kg) - 1.5" (38mm) diameter x .120" (3.0mm) wall thickness.
- DVWR 3201 lb. (1452kg) - 4400 lb. (1996kg) - 1.75" (45mm) diameter x .120" (3.0mm) wall thickness.
- DVWR Over 4400 lb. (1996kg) - 2" (50mm) diameter x .120" (3.0mm) wall thickness.

This applies to all classes and UTV competitors are especially warned to check their cage as many of the aftermarket cages do not meet these standards. Many are .095 wall tubing and not .120 wall. Please verify your tubing wall thickness.
